ms. B.1.6 v. 7. p. 8

My dear Mr May I received your letter, and the inclosure from Mr Conway some weeks ago. and was much obliged by the trouble you had kindly taken to procure it.
and also by your promise to send me some of the letters my dear husband had written to you - I now write to beg you kindly to let me have them as soon as you can without waiting for a private hand to send them by (I shall cheerfully pay the postage) - as my friend Mr Henderson who is writing the memoir is anxious now as soon as possible to get all the materials (from which he is to choose) together -

I suppose you hardly see our Christian Reformer in which ~~and~~ abstract of the intended Memoir has appeared - The volume which is to be printed separately will contain a much fuller account of his Ministry and life in Bristol, with,

I hope, several interesting letters — Would it be worth while to send any copies to America? and if so where?

Miss Estlin has come to live up on the Downey near to me — Both our lives are so changed, and we have so many recollections of common interest that we are glad to be near together — She seems in very much better health than she was —

Believe me

Very truly yours
James Armstrong
